

The Jazz Café
Press Release 15th July 2009

“Hipnotic Belly Dancing event at The Jazz Café 19th July!”

The Jazz Café is delighted to announce they are hosting their very first HIPNOTIC dance classes and show this Sunday 19th July. If you have always fancied taking a Belly Dance class but have never gotten around to it then here's your chance! From beginners to seasoned pros, Hipnotic offers the opportunity to take a class in a great venue and enjoy some quality entertainment and dance to some great Arabic music.

This is the first of a bi-monthly agreement to host HIPNOTIC, and it signals The Jazz Café's commitment to extending their already impressive array of events.

Organiser Deborah Fox said: “We really hope that Reading will embrace this opportunity to see something different and have fun! This dance form can be enjoyed and performed by everybody, whatever your age or size or gender. We all love it, which is why we're really excited to be able to share it with everybody.”

Promotions and Events Manager Chris Gillett added: ‘We're very excited and delighted to welcome HIPNOTIC to The Jazz Café. Its an indication of our desire to welcome more diverse and interesting events to The Jazz Café, and we're confident this will prove to be a success for many months to come’.
